- Title of the Practice :

Competitive Examination Awareness Program at Primary and Secondary Level

- Objectives:-

The main objective of competitive examination guidance into primary and Secondary School to create awareness among the primary and Secondary students regarding the various competitive examinations scheduled by the UPSC, Banking services, SSC, UGC-CSIR, NET/SET Examination, Army recruitment, BSF, CRPF, PSI, STI, MPSC, Police Examination, Talathi Examination etc. To know the pattern of Various Examinations and get the information about the exams conducted for the entry into jobs to become aware about the various soft skills and use the time effectively, become aware about the goals of life. To provide guidance to the students who come from rural background for competitive exam and to incorporate National integration and social harmony.

- The context:

Quality and access to Competitive Examination education is the major concern in Primary and Secondary schools as there are fewer committed teachers, lack of proper text books and learning material in the schools, computer facilities, latest technology. Though Government schools exist, but when compared to private schools then quality is a major issue. Majority of people living in villages have understood the importance of Competitive Examination education and know that it is the only way to get rid of poverty. But due to lack of money they are not able to send their children to private schools and hence depend upon government schools for education. Above that, in some of the government schools there is only one teacher for the entire school. If the quality along with number of teachers and, that too committed teachers can be improved in these schools, then aspiring rural students and India can fulfill their dreams of doing something great.

- The Practice :

Students must be aware of the competition examinations at primary and secondary level. For this, the training of competitive examinations should be started at the secondary level. Primary and secondary teachers should make special efforts for this. There is no facility for guided tournaments in every place and every village. Poverty is another setback. Government schools are not as good and private schools are expensive. This results in a very low number of students actually clearing their secondary education and taking admission in a colleges for further studies. So the drop-out-rate at the secondary level is extremely high in villages. Only parents who can afford college education send their kids to secondary schools. If parents are not able to send their wards for higher education then all their previous efforts get wasted as completing just secondary education means a low paying job and the person is again struck in the same never ending cycle of money, life and poverty.

- Evidence of Success :

While conducting competition awareness programs at primary and secondary level, it was noticed that the secondary level students did not know about the competitive examination. The time we asked the students, they could not answer anything. He could not even tell them how to be a big officer. The students did not know what is mean by competitive exam. But some of them were very smart. He had just decided what to expect in the future. Some students had to work in the bank manager, clerk through competitive examinations, and some students wanted Sales Tax Inspector, PSI, Collector, Deputy Collector, through competitive examinations. We are very happy to implement this program on overall primary and secondary level training and excellence because the people of the future will get the benefit of this project. Due to the introduction of awareness programs at primary and secondary level, the students have been involved in competitive knowledge. They received a deep knowledge about how to prepare study and how to prepare Examination for the future.

- Problem Encountered and Resources Required ;

Students in primary and secondary school level while actually felt technology shortcomings guidance. There was not enough computer available in their school. No internet connection available in their school. The school lacked adequate facilities. A large number of books were not available for deep study of competitive examination. There was no separate study room available in the school. There were not enough books available to study the competitive examination. There were all such problems. To address such problems, we told all students that if you have separate study centre available in the village, then join the study centre and Learn about modern technology and make the most of it in your life. Make good use of mobile. Use different Aap's in mobile. New Aap's of the competitive examination are available on your mobile then you download. Read newspaper every day. Learn the computer to get the computer's knowledge. Make sure that both English and Mathematical themes are right from the present day. Overall, if you want to achieve success in the competitive examination, make a complete and thorough look.

Computer Literacy Guidance Service

1. Introduction :

We have accepted Open Economy since 1990. India become part and parcel of world trade organization and accepted new policies of liberalization, globalisation and privatisation. There is a cut throat competition due to liberalization in the economy, in order to get success in the competition every person; organization try their level best. There is no guarantee of getting success for each of them. They shout from their bottoms of hearts that their product, commodity and service is the best. Every organization became part and parcel of this cut throat competition. Customers are more benefited it is because of the competition in the market regarding quality and quantity i.e. the price and the value of the product. Customer is the king of the market so he buys the product that he feels good, the best and the profitable. This is the impact of the market competition. In case of service industry service providers become aware of their duty and accountability towards the society. The earlier policy of public undertaking and government undertaking has been challenged by the new concepts of LPG.

Education sector is not an exception to this fact. There is no option for modern professional education. The traditional education has become outdated. Its place has to be replaced by professional education along with practical approach and skill oriented programmes. Social institutes are turning to be private and money making profit making institutes. It is applicable to whole society including rural and remote areas. One can see development because of the services available in the urban areas but these services are not easily available in rural areas. The present researcher has undertaken guideline service programmes because there is extreme need of computer education and literacy in rural areas.

“In the year of 21st century the illiteracy means not as having the ability to read and write only but the people who are unable to learn both how to read and write as well as unable to learn and unlearn and relearn again and again.” _ Alwin Tofler

The daily new inventions in the field of computer technology, most of the people have a feeling of illiteracy. This inferior complex makes us feel unwell. The concepts of literacy is changing at rapid speed in 21st century of information age. After reading the printed and written text and news, we add up many new things every day till the last century. There used to be the give and take of information. Today, we can add to knowledge by using the books, stories, novels, magazines that are digitized or computerised, in audio, video and both audio-video formats and can communicate with one another. Henceforth, the communication process, the give and take of information, knowledge and entertainment have available in the digital forms. So this digital form and related technology, one should have the basic knowledge of computer literacy.

This is a competitive century. In the age of science and technology, there is a great use of computer in all the sectors. We observe 'World Computer Literacy Day' on 2nd December every year. There is a great need of computer knowledge at present and so we must be aware of know the importance of computer knowledge in the field of jobs and profession, one should have the skill of computer. The computer sector is expanded to a large extent. This is the reason why each one of us must have computer knowledge.

All and all in the society people and students are made knowledgeable about the importance of computer. They would understand the use of computer in the expanded fields of information, computer courses and if they are given proper guidelines to their likings, they can make their careers with flying colours.

2. The Objectives of the Project :

1. To create computer awareness among the students and to increase students interest in Information Technology.
2. To give students the necessary basic knowledge of computer for Computer literacy.
3. To give students information regarding various computer courses and the opportunities in IT Sector.
4. To give information of the specific skills which would be helpful for securing jobs in the market i.e. Banking, Finance, Insurance, IT etc.
5. In case of hardware and software the new inventions are taking place and the student should be aware of all the minute details of changes taking place in this field because everyone has to keep space with the changes taking place in IT sector.
6. To make student aware of the outdated softwares which are replaced by new softwares and their usage for the benefit of the society.
7. In case of operations of computer what measures are to be taken is equally important. Viz. the distance between the screen and the eyes, the body posture, handling of appliances like mouse, keyboard. One should take care of one's eye site to keep eyes cool, how to prohibit virus and the use of antivirus.
8. To give information about computer software and hardware technology to those who are less interested in traditional education.
9. To give information about important and useful websites.

The aim of this programme was to make students aware about to the computer education. The college implemented this program with the help of students and faculty of the college. Prof. Chandratre Y. V. along with the students Ms. Aishvarya Thorat, Ms. Mohini Pise and Ms. Bharti Fargade launched this programme at Ex-MP Govindrao Adik Rural Education Institute's New English School, Ukkalgaon, one of the remote villages of Shrirampur tahasil.

3. Utility and Scope of Programme :

In today's era computer is the backbone of digital India. The operating knowledge of computer and its application is the time demand from Gram panchayat to Mantralaya every process and implementation is done through computerised system. Computer literacy has become very important. To contribute in computer literacy, this program is selected and implemented. The awareness about computer literacy in society will help the people and students about the various courses and their uses for career development which will boost their personal performance as well as efficiency.

▪ The importance of computer :

1. To prepare computerised result sheet in educational institutes.
2. To simplify and fasten the work in office.
3. To store, save the record for future reference.
4. To prepare lessons audio-video based with the use of graphics, animations.
5. Self-learning / study becomes easy and effective with the help of computer.
6. Student can prepare on his own on different difficult topics with the help of virtual lectures.
7. All the historical records such as geographical maps, graphs, locations, places, images can be stored with the help of scanned images.
8. In the subjects of music, games, drawings, craft, arts information technology techniques and tools helps to understand and explain.
9. All the references and information can be collected with the help of internet.

4. Limitations of Innovative Programme :

1. Under the Computer Literacy Guidance Innovative Programme, this initiative is conducted only in a school of Shrirampur Taluka. Other village schools of the taluka, students are not given the guidance.

2. Students of Rural areas come from various villages, wadi, wasti and remote places. They are late due to the activities of the farm while coming to school. Though they are willing to attend the classes, they cannot reach their school in time.
3. There is a great shortage of money in schools of rural areas and so it is difficult to set up a computer division perfectly updated and enough computers cannot be made available to the strength of students.
4. In order to operate the computer, sometimes electricity is unavailable. So the facility of the UPS equipment, to operate the computer cannot be made available at once.
5. There is a great shortage of a trained computer teacher in rural areas as well.
6. Parents cannot pay the fees for the computer education mostly and they expect the schools should run / conduct this innovative programme completely free of charges.

5. Functions of Computer Literacy Activities :

1. To make the development of both person and society.
2. To bring about a great change in man and society and their logical skills or point of views by using electronic media.
3. To make the reprocess on the information.
4. To translate the information so as to understand it into a new (way) form.
5. To turn information into knowledge and through this knowledge media, the user of computer should become knowledgeable afterwards.

6. Implementation of the project

This innovative programme is conducted in keeping with the day-to-day working of the college. Some students of degree courses from Ukkalgaon, regularly come. Along with them the information of educational sanstha's in the village is taken as well. As a need and the convenience, the selection of Ukkalgaon is made. Students of nearby villages and nearby places of Ukkalgaon always come to the village high-school. By sending the letter along with the students, to the school Principal, th exact day, date and time have been fixed.

The planned guide was present, on 20th January 2018 to the high-school. The lecture for the 9th and 10th Std. students was also arranged by the Hon'ble Principal and the teachers with great interest. During the lecture, all the students, teachers and the non-teaching staff have understood the importance of this innovative programme with great interest.

Students have really appreciated the initiative after the lecture. After that on 29th and 30th of January, the initiative was carried on for two days back to back. All the people have expressed their satisfaction on this initiative sincerely.

7. The key points of the project

1. While providing the guidance service under this project, the methods of lectures, practical and questionnaire have been used with Power Pont Presentation.
2. The doubts of the students have been removed from their mind in accordance with the high-school Principal's advice.
3. Under this initiative for the students, the school is given the visit of four times, namely (on 20th, 21st Dec. 2017, 29th and 30th January 2018). Prof. Chandratre Y. V. along with the BBA(CA)students like, Ms. Aishwarya Thorat, Ms. Mohini Pise and Ms. Bharti Fargade have visited the school four times and given the special guidance for 2 hours every time.
4. Under this initiative, the students of 9th and 10th classes were given the guidance.
5. The school Principal, teachers and the office staff were present at the time and again all of them are taken advantages of this service.
6. Students have removed their doubts from their mind by asking questions after the guidance with confidence.
7. After the completion of the initiative, the feed-back forms are filled in by the students. (Information about them (the forms) is attached in the end.)

8. The Striking Features :

1. Students of the village areas have shown great interest about the computer education.
2. Students have had the feeling that learning computer skills would be the need of the hour in order to get the employment and self-employment.
3. While doing the administrative works of the school, there are many understandings and misunderstandings about the computer.
4. The Principal and the teachers have become aware of the usefulness of the computer in the school activities to establish its ability.
5. The feeling of buying and practising on the computer is passed from the students to the parents.
6. The students have become confident that they can create employment and self-employment with the help of the computer in the village itself.

7. While executing this initiative, the students accomplish the computer education with great care and can develop their learning and exercises very well.
8. While living in day to day life, the computer has occupied every sphere of work and henceforth, the students have formulated their opinion about the computer that is a must and should be accepted as the worth living commodity as well.
9. There is no option apart from the computer education, while swimming with the stream. And this thought is taken into consideration at once by the students and they have become aware of various courses of computer to get done.
10. Without making the mountains out of a molehill of the fundamental facilities like, computer, electricity, teacher and coach, the rural students, parents, teachers, the runner of the Sanstha are able to get educated of computer education. Students were present in the class according to the timetable without getting tired and being absent students' attendance kept on. Increasing day by day.

9. Notable :

This computer literacy guidance service initiative is implemented / carried in Ukkalgaon of Shrirampur taluka only. The researchers have taken into consideration the opinions of Hon'ble Principal, Co-teachers, non-teaching staff, students and the parents that this initiative is of a great need in the rural area to a larger extent. If this initiative is conducted in every High-School and the college, it will be advantageous to the needy, budding and poor students certainly in the future. The computer trainers can select main villages of the rural areas and start centres of well-equipped computer training centres that will create employment and self-employment excellent tools / instruments.

Innovative Program

Awareness Program for the Economically Backward Class Women Report

Chandraroop Dakle Jain College of Commerce, Shirampur has undertaken a programme called Innovative program to tap the social issues in the local surrounding. Prof. Mrs. Salve S.K. has undertaken a Program for the women belonging to the economically backward class to tap their health issue and make them the aware about the financial literacy.

Over the years, the Indian Government has introduced several schemes that have not only helped Indian citizens improve their financial situations, but have also contributed to the country's economy. But the weak social infrastructure such as the lack of adequate schools or health centers, drinking water, sanitation and hygiene facilities inhibits very large section of women for accessing these facilities. This is a major reason why women continue to face problems as poor literacy rates or health issue. It is also one of the reasons for the high incidence of medical sickness.

The local area Sidharth Nagar, Haregaon road with a population around 121 families was selected to run the program. All women of this area are working as domestic servant ladies in the local civilized areas. The Self Help Groups are formed by them with the help of Coordinator provided by the Muncipal Corporation.

Time management was the tough constraint to run this program. But with the communication and continuous follow up Prof. Mrs. Salve S.K. with the students have organized visits to this areas. During every visit we tried to make them aware about the various schemes run by the Central as well as state Govt. Listed below are the initiative set up by the government for the welfare of the economically backward class.

1. Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojna
2. Sukanya Samrudhi Yojna
3. Rajiv Gandhi Jeevandayi Arogya Yojna
3. Pradhan Mantri Jivan Jyoti Bima Yojna
5. Rashtriya Swasthya Bima Yojna
4. National Social Assistance Scheme
7. Pradhan Mantri Mudra Yojna

Every scheme was explained to them with the features and benefits. Who can avail the Yojna and the methods and procedures to avail the Benefits of the Schemes? The response was very positive few families have availed the Rajiv Gandhi Jeevandayi Arogya Yojna. The Outcome of the program will be mentioned after the analysis of data collected and tabulated.

Awareness of Postal Services and Postal Payment Bank

Felicitation of faculty member Mr. Chandratre Yogiraj for his contribution in Computer literacy programme by Mr. Vijay Kulkarni, Divisional Commissioner, Nashik

Dr. Tupe B. G. giving guidance to Self-Help group at Central Bank of India, Shrirampur

Dr. Tupe Balasaheb guided the rural people for Self- help Group. SHGs play today a major role in poverty alleviation in rural India. A growing number of poor people (mostly women) in various parts of Shrirampur are members of SHGs and actively engage in starting enterprise by taking loans from within SHG. The micro finance is agenda for empowering poor women. Micro enterprises are an integral part of planned strategy for securing balanced development of the economy of the poor women. Rural women's participation in agro-based activities is much more than what statistics reveal. This is mainly due to the fact that most of the work done by the women at farm and home is disguised as daily chores. Mechanization and easy availability of labour provide more time to energetic women to engage themselves in self-employment or entrepreneur ventures. For the programme rural people and 17 students actively participated in the programme. At the end the Branch Manager of Central Bank of India expressed his thoughts and role of banking sector in microfinance why to pay loan and gets benefits from the bank. Many Microfinance related dignitary were present for the event.

Students making survey of economically and socially downtrodden

On the Occasion of Dr. B.R. Ambedka Birth Anniversary Vidrohi Kranti Sangh and C.D.Jain College of Commerce, Shrimapur conducted the survey for betterment of SC/ST Community students. The college SC/ST community welfare member Mr. Vivek M. More guided them during the event to collect the data. The data collected students was given to Smayak Foundation to help the needy students.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

The Rayat Shikshan Sanstha, Satara is pioneer in the field of rural development through education .Today it has occupied a prominent place on the educational map not only of Maharashtra but also of India. We are fortunate enough to have a rich heritage of the Rayat Shikshan Sanstha, Satara. The institution of very high repute, committed to social justice and national integration. The Sanstha was founded by the Late Padmabhushan Dr. Karmveer Bhaurao Patil, popularly known as 'Karmveer Anna'. He followed the footsteps of Mahatma Jyotiba Phule and Rajashri Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj and firmly believed that education is the panacea for the social and economical problems of the society. Our College popularly known as "C. D. Jain College of Commerce, Shrirampur" is one of the most flourishing branch of the Sanstha under the guidance and motivation of Hon. Sou. Meenatai Jagdhane, (Member, Managing Council, Rayat Shikshan Sanstha, Satara and Chairman, Rayat Shaikshanik Sankul, Shrirampur).

There are various social issues in the society which are tackled by the Government level through different ways. Still there are certain issues such as female exploitation, malnutrition problems of children, torture on women and girls, torture on weaker group of society, cleanliness, and lack of technical knowhow etc. which are remained unsolved. After considering all these problems, Being the Principal and part of this institute I feel it's my duty to pay our contribution to the society by observing different kind of activities through which we can have a direct linkage with the society. From this theme I have run the Innovative Programmes with the help of my faculty members. This theme of innovative programme would run through the Teacher- Student Society. Every faculty member is given the topic as per their choices and has run the programme with the help of selected students from the college. Under the guidance of faculty member, student has carried out the programmes and has a direct linkage with the society through different areas.

For the Innovative Programme, different 23 themes has been given to the faculty members through which they can pay their contribution to the society and can prove to be helpful for the students also. Themes for the Innovative Programme were as study related to Outer School Children, Women Empowerment, Disaster Management, Senior Citizens, Physical Fitness, Importance of Diet and Exercise, Android App Training, Dairy Industry, Computer Literacy, Spoken English etc.

I am proud of my whole staff members for running these programmes actively and this will be a symbol of love and token of our gratitude towards the society.

Dr. Bhor L. D.
